ADMISSIONS PROCESS FACT SHEET

How Does a Patient Get Referred to the Caring House?

A patient referral is made by one of the following:

- Primary care physicians
- Skilled-nursing facilities
- HHKMH emergency room (with 3-day qualifying stay)
- Hospitals
- Hospice – must be on hospice service

GENERAL ADMISSION PROCESS

Step 1:

If you or your loved one has been identified by medical providers as an eligible candidate for care at a long-term and/or skilled nursing facility, the medical providers must send a referral to the Caring House. The referral will be reviewed and considered for you for possible admission.

Step 2:

The Caring House will then request that the referring medical providers send your or your loved one's current medical documentation. These can include your current medical and medication needs and medical records, and will determine if the Caring House is able to provide the care you or your loved one needs.

Step 3:

Once the criteria to be admitted have been met, the Caring House will work with the medical professionals who referred you to smoothly transfer you or your loved one to the Caring House.

Step 4

When you or your loved has been transferred, the Caring House medical director will assume responsibility and communicate with your or your loved one's primary care provider as needed

Important: Referrals may be received 24/7 and processed on the next business day.
